Collaborative Contracting for a Sustainable Supply Chain

By

CICES President - Batsetswe Motsumi
BSc (Hons) FCInstCES MInstLM

Mr. Motsumi is a civil engineering surveying professional currently serving as a Commercial Director for Costain Limited on several complex delivery schemes. Over the past 20 years, he has applied his commercial management expertise on a variety of projects ranging from large infrastructure projects spanning water, highways, and waste to energy sectors.

This CPD event will explore enabling features for a successful transition to and adoption of New Engineering Contract (NEC) in delivery of complex infrastructure projects. Mr. Motsumi will also share his observations and lessons in managing several adjudications under the NEC form of contract including reference to some of recent cases decided in the United Kingdom courts.
